U. S. COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

The examination of George Gage, charged in con nection with Charles Bottsferd with attering Treasury Notes On behalf of Gage, witnesses testified that he has a broker office at 113 West Broadway, and that he kept, last Spring two other offices, one in West Broadway and the other in Thomas street; that Treasury Notes had been seen in his pos ession at his office, which he represented himself to hav begins, at his office, which he represented himself to have been his-cial money was paid to him last summer, the proceed, of prizes in a lottery (about $1000), and that be exhibited one of the Notes in his window, and at the office of Mr Seconomy's showed those he sold, to Mr E B Hart and Mr Kelly, the cle k. The person from whom Mr Gage is stated to have obtained them was also described. [Mr Lounds testified the previous day that Mr Gage informed him in the District Attoracy's office that he had received the Treasury Notes from a person in playing at a game called 'Bluff.']

The case was most ably summed up on behalf of Mr Gage by J B Scoles, Esq, who maintain 4 that nothing had been shown making out even a gruma facio support of the case. He was answered by Mr Wm H Barrett, Acting District Atto:ney, who contended that sufficient had been shown to warrant the charge. The Commissioner finally decided that the proof in support of the accusation was sufficient to authorise a commitment of the prisoner-whereupon an order was made t

Mr Barrett then moved that the bail of Gage be increased to $10,000. This was opposed by Mr Cooper, associate counsel with Mr Scoles, on the ground of its being excessive. Mr Barrett replied that Judg. Betts had required that sum in the case of Demeyer, where the penalty was 10 years imprisonment.-The penalty in the present case, on conviction, is $5,000 fine and 10 years imprisonment, and he should insist on that sum. The Commissioner ordered the bail to be placed at the higher

EXAMINATION OF CHARLES BOTSFORD.—Botsford was then placed on examination charged with stealing from the U S Mail a letter containing an article of value, &c Mr Wm M Price appeared as counsel in his behalf.

The principal witness was Judge Parshal, of Van Buren, partner of Mr Camnbell, who mailed the letters. He stated partner of Mr Cammbell, who mailed the letters. He stated that he was away from Van Buren on the 30th March, when the Notes were mailed, and he did not see Mr Campbell afterward, that gentleman having been shot about 15 miles from Van Buren, on Sunday, May 10, and his body concealed in a creek. He was returning from Fayetteville at the time, and had over $300 in specie in his saddle-bags, which were rifled. On taking charge of the business of the office, he (Judge Parshal) discovered a certificate of the Deputy Postmaster as to the mailing of the Treasury Notes, with the No, amount, &c, of each. They never reached their destination—the Notes here shown corresponded with a portion of those mailed at that time. In three of them a 0 is changed into a 9, on a fourth a 1 is changed to 7, and the fifth is unaltered. He knew Mr Botsford, who went to that part of the country in 1841. He a 1 is changed to 1, and the fifth is unaftered. He knew Mr Botsford, who went to that part of the country in 1841. He had an office at the time these Notes were mailed in the l'ost-Office at Favetteville, and was considered to be Deputy Postmaster. There were four intermediate offices between Van Buren and Fayetteville, at all of which the mail was opened. The room occupied as a Post Office at Fayetteville was also occupied as a Druggist's shop, a Physician's office, the Law office of Mr Botsford, and the usual office of the Postmaster. The wileses could not say how many persons usually resorted. office of Mr Botsford, and the usual office of the Postmaster. The witness could not say how many persons usually resorted there, nor whether the Treasury Notes may not have been taken out at one of the intermediate offices. Mr Botsford left for this part of the country is S-ptember, having endeavored, in vain, to borrow money, he being possessed of only a hundred dollars, to bear the expense of the journey. Mr B informed witness in this city recently that he left the west with $140, having sold his wife's watch and roulette box, and that he had $25 when he arrived here. The character and deportment of Mr Botsford at Van Buren and Fayetteville were good, and witness heard nothing against him till after the loss of the money. Witness had been informed at Washington that the Post-Office agent thought the Notes had been purloined at Fayetteville, and that suspicion rested in New York upon Botsford, in connection with Gage. The witness was subpensed here to give testimony.

It was admitted that Botsford has received $350 from Gage. It was admitted that Botsford has received $350 from Gage since his arrival here-but, on the contrary, it is declared to Mr Price moved for the discharge of the prisoner, as nothing had been shown to convict him. Mr Barrett opposed.

The Commissisner considered the testimony to be insufficient, and ordered the prisoner to be discharged. POLICE OFFICE. James Letour was committed for stealing $5 from

A comparison between the statement of the Company as made by the Directors 1st June 1843, and the condition of the Company on the 1st of January 1844, will show the following results:

during the current year.

The road is pledged, together with its income, for the funded debt, first to the State of Massachusetts, secondly to the city of Norwich, and thirdly to certain Trustees of bonds due in 1852, $119,773. In relation to the pledge of the income of the road to these Trustees and the application for an injunction in their behalf, the Directors have taken the opinion of Henry Strong of Norwich and Daniel Lord, Jr, of this city, who concur in the opinion that so long as there is no default in the payment of the interest and principal when due, the Company cannot be disturbed in the possession of the road and income.

The whole number of shares upon which dividends could be declared is 16,500. The funded debt is as follows: Massachusetts 5 per ceut due ist July, 1856 $100,000 City of Norwich, 6 per cent, due as follows: ist Jan, 1848, $25,000; do 1849, $25,000; lst July, 1849, 25,000; lst Jan, 1850, $25,000; lst July, 1850, $25,000; ist Jan.

The whole amount of debt, funded and floating ... $776,725 64 Expanses, interest, &c Net carrings. $24,870 making about 1½ per cent. for 12 months. The result will no doubt be much more favorable for the coming 12 months. The annual report of the Worcester Railroad Company shows a net earning of 71 per cent. the past year-2 for the first and 51 for the last six months, ending November 30th. The great increase was simultaneous with the reduction of charges on freight per Western Railroad. Of the $37,000 being amount divided, $10,000 were paid for loss and damages by steamboat train coming in collision with the upward Western accommodation train in 1842. The depreciation of freight, cars and engines took pearly all the balance, beside a reserve, to insure a 3 per cent, dividend in June.

The reference between the Worcester and Western Railroads is now, by the declination of Judge Sprague, constituted of the following gentlemen: Linus Child, Senator from Worcester County, and Judges Williams and Warren, of the Common Pleas Court. The amicable adjustment of this dispute has given confidence to holders of Railroad Stocks, and they generally advanced in Boston in consequence. Worcester went at 12, Lowell 28, Eastern 6, and Providence 5 per cent. advance Charlestown Branch was sold at $75, Western a 551. Norwich 351.

The receipts upon the Western road last week were, from the passengers, $3,051; freight, mail &c., $5,897-$8,948. In the same week last year $2,817 were received from passengers, and $2,970 from freights, &c. Increase this year $3,161. For the four weeks in 1844, the receipts have been $30, 668, against $2,646. Increase this year, $4,252.

The Boot Mills Co. have declared a dividend of 6 per cent. on $1,200,000, although they earned over 10 in six months.

The Thorndike Manufacturing Company in Palmer, have made a dividend of 6 per cent for the last six months.

JOURNEYMAN TAILOR, Through Europe and the East, during the years 1824 to 1840 Translated from the Third German Edition,

By WILLIAM HOWITT. This is a Book for the People. It gives a graphic account of the author's travels on foot, through all the countries of the East, working his way with his tools of trade-and so jour neying from country to country for nearly twenty years .lailors, all the world over, are celebrated for a pretty numble stretching of their legs after dismounting from the shopboard -but here we have one who literally sews his way from continent to continent-through Europe, Asia, Africa; through Turkey, Greece, Syria, Egypt, Italy and France. These travels are not only well written, and display a great deal of shrewd observation and excellent feeling, but have the peculiar advantage of observing life in various region. from a new point of view. Instead of gliding along in the luxurious style of modern travellers in an easy cushioned carrisze, he trudges on through desert ways, works amid the warming mass of strange civies, meets all the tubs and rebuffs attendant on his humble station, and looks on things as they appear to the eyes of the multitude. tion of children.

Opinion of Mr. Holbrok, of the Exchange Lyceum.

'Miss Oram: I received not a little satisfaction from an examination of the manuscript for your proposed books for the early instruction of children. They differ essentially, because they differ radically, from most of the books now in use, which are wrong because they violate some of the first and best principles of the human mind. Yours are right in principle, because they recognize the powers and progress of the human understanding with the proper mode of developing them.

'Your views accord essentially with those practiced with such signal success in the Deaf and Dumb Asylums; in the Prussian Schools: with universal practice in every other pursuit but reaching and with common sense.

suit but teaching, and with common sense.

"They recognize the good, old-fashioned doctrine of "learning tools by their use," which is violated by nearly every step taken in our schools from the time the child begins to say A and B, and sit on a bench, till he closes his course in a Theological Seminary.

"By your books children will begin well, which is not only that most important step to wards ending well. I hope

"By your books children will begin well, which is not only the first but most important step towards ending well. I hope they will be speedily published and used throughout the lingth and breadth of our land. JOSIAH HOURROOK."

Opinion of Mr. B. Ellis, a Trustee of the Public Schools in New York.

"Miss Oram has submitted to my inspection the outlines of a plan of a series of School Books." I have formed a very favorable opinion of the contemplated work. Considerable improvements have been made of late in the books commonly used, but trutch remains to be done.

"Much precious time is thrown away in pressing over dull, dry and uninteresting lessons, often very far above the comprehension of children, and which cannot retain any place in the mind.

culties; to present something to the mind of the hild calculated to attract and to rivet the attention, and to lead it on by a natural and easy process from one grade of improvement to ar other.

"I cheerfully recommend the work to the attention of all who take an interest—and who should not?—in such subjects.

"B. EL. IS"

The Child's Christian Spelling Book, including a new and simple application of Words in teaching Pupils to read.

Doctor Milnon's Opinion.

"I have examined a specimen number of a work entitled the Chird's Christian Spelling Book, designed to consist of a series of instructive Scripture lessons. Each lesson is to be ornamented with an impressive picture presenting to the eye of the pupil the most interesting circumstruces or event contained in the narrative that constitutes the lesson. For infant minds this has always been found an appendage calculated to interest the mind and make a deep impression as well of the minds this has always been found an appendage calculated to interest the mind, and make a deep impression as well of the facts as of the illustration and practical improvement of the lesson. The clear and beautiful type employed in the printing of his work; the marked division of the words into syllables; the Spelling table consisting of the words of the lessons—divided into monosyllables, dissylables, xc—the questions and answers giving explanations of the lesson, and the moral and religious instruction to be derived from it are features which in my view give the work a high value.

"Besides the facility afforded in teaching a child to read by the connection of the Spelling Tables with the lesson, it is no small advantage to the plan of this work that it excludes all frivolous or improper words which sometimes deform the spelling as well as the reading lessons of little children and confines the attention to words of Scripture only.

The Invisible Wig so closely resembles the real head of hair that sceptics and connoisseurs have pronounced it the most perfect and extraordinary invention of the day. The great advantage of this novel and unique Wig is its being made without sewing or weaving, which causes its appearance so closely to resemble the natural hair, both in Charles J. to take likenesses in a style unsurpassed by any artist in the country, and as an evidence that they claim no greater ment than is freely accorded by all, they ask attention to the following extracts (taken from a great number) from the unsolicited encomiums bestowed on them by the press: These deserving and ingenious young men have brought the process as near to perfection, it appears to us, as it is carable of reaching. Their likenesses are not only more perfect, as resemblances, but more finished in execution than any others resemblances, but more inished in execution than any others that we have seen.
